

Glen Park Association
Spring Quarterly Meeting
April 11, 2024
Zoom

1. Grants

GPA President Hilary Schiraldi announced the 2024 Glen Park Association Grant Recipients:

- $1,200 went to fund a water meter to give life to the Arlington Path Pollinator Garden
- $1,000 went to the Glen Park School to fund its Kinder Yard, a special recreation space for the school's youngest students.
- $1,500 went to Sunnyside Elementary School to pay the printing costs of its student-written literary magazine, The Ray.
- $1,500 went to Dolores Huerta Elementary School's Dream Library renovation

2. Glen Canyon Recreation Center

Recreation Coordinator Conor Casey listed a few of the many great free and nominal cost offerings at the rec center, including pick-up pickle ball, Pilates, yoga, ping pong, a climbing wall and more.

4. District 8 Supervisor Rafael Mandelman's office

Henry deRuff is the legislative aide in Supervisor Rafael Mandelman's office who has taken charge of Glen Park issues. Reach him at Henry.deruff@sfgov.org, 415-554-6987

5. San Francisco Planning Department

Reanna Tong and Malena Leon-Farrera, senior planners from the SF Planning Department's Land Use and Community Planning Team

City has proposed zoning changes to meet state housing requirements.

See the proposed zoning map here, and zoom in to see Glen Park specifically. Most of the neighborhood would be rezoned to allow four units within a 40-foot height, which means density would change but height would not. Portions of Bosworth, Diamond and Chenery would be zoned for 8 and 6 stories.
